Admission Policy to the IB Programme

The Antonine Sisters' School offers the following Admission Policy to the IB Programme:

- Clearly stated admission policy with relevant materials available to all the stakeholders in the three languages: Arabic, English and French.
- An open admission policy which offers access to a wide range of interested students. There is no limit caused by economic, social, gender, age and/or demographic reasons as the school constantly searches for financial resources to offer to needy / underprivileged students.
- The open admission policy includes transfer student for which effort is made to make such cases easy for all the stakeholders.
- A number of options for the enrolled students to choose from to attain the IB DP according to their needs and interests for the field of specialization and future career. The two-year academic path ensures the successful acquisition of required skills and information.
- Procedures taken to ensure the students' positive attitude and perseverance in the IB course leading to their success; these can simply writing tasks or interviews.
- An inclusive admissions policy includes welcoming students with a variety of different abilities and special needs. Our school has several staff members qualified to support students with various learning disabilities and have successfully accompanied such students through the Lebanese program in the past. Furthermore, the campus is fully equipped and takes into consideration the easy access to students that require a wheelchair.
